

After having failed two tests and taking a break from learning to drive for four years, I was extremely nervous to take up driving again, until I found Andy! Not only did Andy provide both encouragement and support in every lesson, he took the time to explain every aspect of learning to drive in both a simple and concise way, without the need to overcomplicate matters! I felt at ease from my very first lesson, and every week looked forward to my next lesson! With Andy's commitment and guidance my confidence levels grew, which enabled me to grow into a confident and competent driver, and eventually passed my test with only four minors! Thank you again Andy!

Kind regards Emily
