

I finally passed my driving test on the 18th of December and I can happily say that I couldn't have done it without Andy's help. He was great, I could always count on him to help me out if I needed improving on anything, if I didn't feel comfortable with something he would ask me, he was always supportive too which is always something you want in a driving instructor. I passed first time, with 3 minor errors and was extremely happy with my outcome :)

Thanks, Sam
